

SENIOR FARCE IS ENACTED

GYMNASIUM CROWDED WITH PLEASSED AUDIENCE.

The Members of the Cast Each and All Acquitted Themselves With Honor and Farewell Song Ended Program.

If the opinions of those who intended the senior farce last evening count for anything it was the best ever presented at the University. It was catchy, written in a breezy style, and full of local hits and joshes. The author, C. D. McComish, Stanford '03, has already made a record at Stanford writing farces. He wrote the "Plug Ugly," and the junior farce, both of which were considered good.

While here he has been indefatigable in his efforts to make this year's production a success, and he certainly is to be congratulated on the result of his efforts.

Bradshaw, a senior queener, made quite a hit with the audience. They liked his stage presence and seemed struck by the evidences of a born actor, which he so clearly displayed. "Scames" Leadbetter in his part of a young collegian overburdened with worries, which didn't worry him, and debts, which he did not pay, was true to life.

Luke as the Utah Mormon had the audience laughing all evening at his "mule method" of locomotion.

Elroy took the part of a wealthy eastern gentleman. His attitude of abject terror when Luke assisted Leadbetter in robbing him made the spectators' hair stand on end.

The girls did themselves credit. Misses Doten, Richardson and Esden captured the hearts of the audience.

Miss Johnson, as elderly Mrs. Price, brought down the house by her method of collecting rent.

The farewell song, written by McComish, to the tune of "Kiss Yourself Goodbye," was sung with an inspiring vigor.

It ran as follows:
"We would like to say in a modest way
As we part tonight;
That classes have gone, and more will

THE CLASS DAY EXERCISES

CLASS PHOPHECY, POEM,
LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT.

Senior Banner Hung In the Faculty Room With the Greatest of Eclat and Other Large Doings Didded.

Class exercises on the campus were highly interesting. The historic pipe was drawn from the spider-webbed corner and passed around.

Many of the girls took advantage of this opportunity and took a good, long comforting smoke.

W. B. Harrington gave his views on the future of the class of '03.

The last will and testament of the class was duly signed, the tears of the signers intermingling with the ink. James Comerford read the class poem. It was worthy of the man who wrote and read and recited it. After hanging the class banner in the faculty room, the class repaired to the dining hall and partook of a luncheon. By far the best toast responded to was that of C. D. McComish, the author of the Senior farce.

"Come on,
Both keen and bright.
But you'll agree that you'll never see,
In the Varsity for a Century;
Another bunch like '03.

So hear me what I say:
We've passed our exes and now we go,
Out in the world to rustle up the dough;
Out where the dining hall steaks don't go.

Oh, my!
And although we may not make a fuss,
There'll come a time when you're bound to hear from us;
And now the final curtain,
Falls on the show for certain;
So we say, Goodbye."

The above masterpiece created considerable excitement.

MRS. STANFORD TO RESIGN.
Special to The Journal:

SAN FRANCISCO, June 1.—Mrs. Stanford transferred all her powers as founder of Stanford University to the board of trustees today. She was elected to the board and made president. This is one more step toward final resignation of the control of the institution of the trustees.

GET THE ROPE READY FOR WORK

THE CITIZENS OF RENO MUST TAKE THE LAW INTO THEIR OWN HANDS

If the Officers Cannot Purge Reno the People of the City Must Do So. Reno Must Not Remain a Den of Thieves

The citizens of Reno must act immediately. If they delay longer than tonight the Journal will publish to the world, the fact that good citizenship does not exist in this city.

There is no hope from constituted authority. The heads of the departments know that there is operating in this city a gang of thieves who take from innocent boys the money given them by their parents with which to reach destinations on the road to which Reno is a way station.

These thieves are worse than thugs and sandbaggers, because they cover their villainies with the cordial handshake, the glad smile, the affection of friendship.

The Journal will not make the terrible allegation that the heads of the police, constabulary and other offices are wittingly sanctioning this offense. These words must not be construed into such an allegation, but the Journal is aware that the officers know that these confidence games are being worked. Two of Reno's police said last night to a Journal representative: "We know that men are being robbed by these wily scoundrels, but what can we do?"

WHY ARE NOT ORDERS ISSUED FROM HEADQUARTERS TO ARREST AND RE-ARREST? IF ONE CHARGE FAILS, TRY ANOTHER.

The bunco steers are known to the police. Sheriff Hayes gave them notice a couple of weeks ago to leave town, but they are back again. They stop at first-class hotels. They hobnob with the best citizens of Reno. They invite prominent city officials to the bar to drink with them and the offer is accepted. Perhaps, and only perhaps, the city officials, yes, and county officials, do not know the avocation of these men, but the Journal does.

A representative of this paper has had the acquaintance of these people for some time without knowing the villainy they were perpetrating here. The Journal is false to the principles for which it stands if it doesn't publish what it knows and what the officers have long known.

Last night a man was robbed of $185 by this well organized band of highwaymen. Earlier in the day another was separated from $80. Thus it goes on from day to day. A member of the gang travels to and fro between Wadsworth and Truckee. He picks out the victims. They are met at the depot. The confidence game is worked and the poor sucker finds himself separated from his hard earned money.

The people who are victimized by this gang are not gamblers. They may be green and lacking in knowledge of the ways of the world, but that is all the more reason why they should be protected.

Unless action is taken tonight by the citizens of Reno tomorrow the Journal will publish this city's shame. The revelations that will be made will cause some shaking and trembling in high places.

The terrible "001" has done good service. It can again.

Sheriff Hayes and Mayor Turfittin have been investigating the state of affairs for some time and the bunco men are doing the tallest kind of talking to convince them that no more crooked work will be done. The operations last night are convincing proof that the two officials got buncoed themselves.

Florida's Orange Crop
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 1.—Advices from Florida are to the effect that the results of the big freeze of a few years ago, in which a very large proportion of the orange trees of the state were killed, are rapidly passing away, and that Florida will shortly be prepared to furnish ever a greater number of oranges than before the disaster. It is said that this year's crop will be worth about $2,700,000, and will exceed the crop of last year by about 1,000,000 boxes.

The reports are favorable to the growth of pineapples, many square miles of territory having been placed under cultivation. The shipments of pineapples this season have reached 2,000,000 boxes, which are valued at $3 per box.

DAYLIGHT ROBBERY.
William Neverman, an old resident of this city, had a watch stolen from him on Commercial street Sunday afternoon by Ed. Hoff and Joe Smith. They were seen taking the timepiece and followed by Ted Brandon, who walked after Smith until they met Deputy Sheriff Maxwell, to whom he imparted his information. Smith was taken into custody and the watch recovered. Hoff was also arrested.

A Public Nuisance
At the meeting of the city council held last evening all the members were present except Councilman Wilson. Senator Roff appeared and requested that the waste ditch that flows across town be flushed. Council directed the superintendent of streets to order all property owners discharging sewage into this ditch to connect at once with sewer pipes.

THE BANQUET OF T. H. P. O

MANY TOASTS TOASTED
AND SPEECHES SPOKEN.

Graduates Absent From the University for Years Gather Around the Festive Board and Swap Thrilling Yarns.

The annual banquet of the T. H. P. O., fraternity took place in the Owl cafe Sunday night. Graduate members, who have been absent for years, were gathered round the festive board and rejoiced in the feeling of brotherly interest in a college fraternity. Toasts were responded to upon all topics that could cater the wind of an up-to-date toastmaster who, on this occasion, was E. J. Erikson.

Lester Merrill's fine bass voice helped to make the festivities more festive while an orchestra played lively airs throughout the repast.

After a few parting songs the party broke up, each one making for his respective domicile wondering if he would be present at the reunion one year hence.

ANNUAL MEETING OF BOARD OF REGENTS.

Recommendations for Graduates Considered and Improvements Talked About.

The board of regents held their annual meeting yesterday to consider the recommendations for graduation and to transact the unfinished business of the year.

After the names of the candidates for graduation were considered it was found that this year's class is the largest that ever graduated. Several improvements in the University were considered. The work of the past year was looked into and found to be far above the average of previous years.

ROUSING MEETING.

Reno Carpenters' Union Receives Acquisitions to the Ranks.

A rousing meeting of the Carpenter's Union was held last evening at headquarters in the Bank of Nevada building. About fifty craftsmen were present. There were nine initiations and a large number of names were proposed for membership. The charter will remain open until the 15th of this month. During this time the fee for initiation is only $2. The union adopted a resolution requesting all non-union carpenters to make application and become members, and the resolution also instructed them that they would not have to quit their present places of employment.

Officers were nominated for the succeeding term to be voted for at the next meeting. It is hoped that the next meeting will be a large one.

At the conclusion of the regular business there were a number of speeches made and a general good time prevailed.

CRUSHED BY FALLING EARTH

EDWARD LEWERS DIED FROM THE INJURIES SUSTAINED.

While Working Under Dangerous Ground the Bank Caved and Mr. Lewers Was Imprisoned.

Death in any form is terrible, but the manner in which Edward Lewers died was superlatively so.

This young man, the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Lewers of Washoe valley and brother of Prof. Lewers of this city, was crushed Saturday beneath earth and rocks and his bones broken in fifty places.

He lay for hours with the weight of tons of debris upon his mangled form before aid arrived. He was then dying, but a physician from Carson and two from Reno were summoned and everything possible was done to save his life. One of his limbs was amputated, but to no avail.

The deceased was working alone in a placer mine not far from his home. Excavation was being carried on under a high bank that was deemed to be dangerous. When the cave occurred there was no warning, but the whole bank slid in on him and he was buried to his neck under the debris.

The body was brought to Reno last Sunday evening. A delegation of Elks were at the depot and escorted the body of the deceased to an undertaking parlor. Professor Lewers, the brother of the deceased, had been called to Stanford University the day the accident occurred on account of the serious illness of a sister.

MANY PEOPLE KILLED.

Tornado Leaves Death and Ruin in its Path.

Special to The Journal:

ATLANTA, Ga., June 1.—The loss of life in the tornado at Gainesville, exceeded one hundred, and at other places near thirty-five more are dead. The storm, which swept down from a clear sky, wiped out many large buildings, and in two minutes left the town in ruins. Most of the victims were crushed to death in the ruins of a cotton factory.

REPUBLICANS OF OHIO

A Big Controversy Is On in the Party Ranks

HANNA FACTION IS FIGHTING THE PRESIDENT.

The State Convention is Liable to Develop Interesting Things in the Buckeye State.

COLUMBUS, O., June 1.—The Republican state convention to be held here Wednesday is the talk of the hour. The controversy between the Hanna and Foraker factions over the proposed indorsement of President Roosevelt for a second term has made the convention one of more than ordinary interest from the viewpoint of national politics. The political stream in the Buckeye state always ripples along merrily. Frequently it develops into a roaring and seething torrent, and at no time does it approach any thing like stagnation.

Until quite recently all indications pointed to a quiet convention this year and the old wheel-horses of the party were exchanging congratulations on the outlook. One after another the aspirants for the gubernatorial nomination had withdrawn from the field, leaving Col. Myron T. Herrick of Cleveland standing out alone as the prospective standard bearer. His nomination was and is assured and there appeared nothing of consequence to disturb the serenity of the atmosphere. But all of a sudden there appeared in the press an interview with Senator Hanna in which he was represented as strongly opposed to the convention passing resolutions indorsing Mr. Roosevelt for president in 1904. Immediately the political pot began to boil and bubble and the old-time feud broke out in a most virulent form. Senator Foraker lost no time in jumping into Roosevelt's wagon. He promptly issued an interview advocating the proposed resolution indorsing Mr. Roosevelt and announced his intention to use all his political strength to secure its adoption. As Senator Hanna is likewise disposed to combat the resolution with equal vigor there is every prospect of a battle royal on the convention floor. Whatever the result of the contest may be it will afford an interesting test of the Roosevelt strength and ascertain if it is genuine or fictitious.

As previously stated the nominations are not attracting a great deal of attention. At a conference between Senator Hanna and "Boss" Cox of Cincinnati a slate was practically agreed upon for the important places on the ticket. State Senator Warren G. Harding of Marion, who was an early aspirant for the head of the ticket, has gone down under the flood of Herrick sentiment and probably will be satisfied to accept the nomination for lieutenant governor, which he may have for the asking. The nomination of Wade Ellis of Cincinnati for attorney general is assured, and the naming of Walter D. Gullbert for a third term as state auditor also appears to be a foregone conclusion. For the minor places within the gift of the delegates there are a number of candidates, with the single exception of member of the board of public works, for which place George Watkins of Pike county will in all probability be named.

Senator Hanna will call the gathering to order and as temporary chairman will deliver the keynote address. He will then surrender the gavel to Senator Foraker, who will preside over the deliberations of the convention as permanent chairman.

NORTH PLATTE, Neb., June 1.—President Roosevelt emerged from the Rocky mountain country today and speeding across the plains of Nebraska begins the final stretch of his long transcontinental trip. The only stop of consequence is scheduled for this place, where hundreds of visitors gathered today in the day to bid the president welcome. The presidential special will enter Iowa early tomorrow morning and before nightfall the Mississippi river will be reached. The following day will be spent in Illinois and will be the last day of speech-making for the president. From Illinois the run to Washington will be made straight through without stop.

SERMON

Rev. Dr. Rader Addresses University Graduates

A PURE HEART IS THE CHIEF REQUISITE

A Right Purpose Is What Is Needed In Business, Politics, Domestic and Church Life.

The Baccalaureate Services at the University Sunday were interesting, the music being a particularly good setting to a good sermon.

Mrs. Hall's bird-like notes rang through the building making music sweet and soul-stirring, a sort of triumphal hallelujah of her Heavenly song.

Dr. Rader's sermon was concerning a pure heart, though the genial doctor owned, toward the close of his discourse, that he had almost forgotten the text himself.

He urged the young people to take a pure heart into business, into politics, into domestic life, into the church admonishing them to care more for purity of purpose than for learning, science, skill or success of any kind, without pure hearts their success would be like ripe fruit with worms in it.

Character counts for more than metaphysics, physiology or doctrines. The world is full of full pockets and full heads, but it is not overburdened with pure hearts. Not by thinking, but by living will you find God.

After speaking of man's unending efforts to locate God, and to come into right relationship and of the difference between Agnosticism, Deism, Atheism and Theism Dr. Rader advised a rational belief in a rational God—a God who is nearer than hands and feet.

Heaven is within, and each must find it for himself. Do not depend upon others for happiness.

The spirit that is in tune with its maker is independent of barometer, thermometer or any other conditions.

Nothing can daunt it, nothing can squeeze out the sweetness of its being. Laugh and be glad, and do not charge calamities to God that may be in the plumbing.

Laughter is grander than tears. Piety is not proportioned to the length of the countenance.

"Pray," says Dr. Rader, "The man who plays has the advantage of the man who swears."

The Union soldier feared not the opposing ranks, the shot and shell nor the cannon, but his heart sank within him when he saw Stonewall Jackson pull his hat down over his eyes and pray.

Dr. Rader is magnetic in person simple in style, and easy in delivery. Best of all, he does not repeat, nor give a thought in several different costumes. He knows when he has finished.

THE MAP

Wadsworth Is Far From Being a Doomed Town

PERMANENT PROSPERITY NOW AWAITS THE VILLAGE.

Development of the Olinghouse Mines Is What Means Good Times for the Neighbor to the Eastward.

After a year and a half of anxious waiting, with a prospect of being wiped off the map, Wadsworth has taken a new lease of life and at present the future of the little town is brighter than ever before, says the Argus.

The news that the railroad shops were to be removed to Reno and that Wadsworth was no longer to be a division point, was to the inhabitants like the death warrant of the once flourishing town. But this was not all the bad news, when the survey for the reconstruction was completed Wadsworth was several miles off the main track, with a spur running into the town. To the oldest inhabitant, the town seemed doomed.

Following shortly after this came the surveys of the government survey for a canal system that entirely surrounds Wadsworth. The canal runs from the west and about four miles west of the town branches, one going to the Indian reservation and the other to the south.

This great irrigation system will reclaim about thirty thousand acres of desert land in the immediate vicinity of Wadsworth and together with the vast farming territory to the south will make it one of the greatest agricultural centers in the west.

The mines at Olinghouse canyon are developing beyond the expectation of most ardent believers, the strikes of the last few months have been many and very rich and the prosperity of Wadsworth as it is the natural trading center for the camp.

In many ways the proposed moving of the shops has been a benefit as it has forced the people to look for more substantial resources, which they have found in every direction.

With Wadsworth's death as a railroad center a new and more substantial form of prosperity overtakes the town and in time she will be one of the most substantial cities in the state.

WORST OF ALL EXPERIENCES.

Can anything be worse than to feel that every minute will be your last? Such was the experience of Mrs. S. H. Newson, Decatur, Ala. At length I was induced to try Electric Bitters and the result was miraculous. I improved at once and now I'm completely recovered." For Liver, Kidney, Stomach and Bowel troubles Electric Bitters is the only medicine. Only 50c. It's guaranteed by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist.

SHOPS

Work on the Site Selected Has Been Begun

THERE WILL BE FIFTY-SEVEN SIDE TRACKS.

One Thousand Railroaders and Their Families Will Locate in Reno Within the Next Few Months Without Fail.

Reno has a year of patient waiting in store. It will require that lapse of time for the Southern Pacific company to complete the great shops that the corporation will erect here.

The year will hardly be sufficient for Reno capitalists to rear the dwellings to house the people who will work in the shops and their families and the structures wherein they may traffic.

The ten thousand mark has been passed. Now for the twenty thousand. Reno will attain it. No fate can block the progress of the city to that population.

Not only are the small Wadsworth shops coming, but the great Bakersfield shops will be located here and the mechanics at Sacramento are new Reno yards. Their task is completed. Fifty-seven long side tracks will be laid and work will begin immediately upon the great car shops on the Wary Wall ranch.

It will require 800,000 cubic feet of earth to grade the site and a steam shovel was brought here yesterday to begin the good work.

One hundred laborers and forty grading cars were arrivals yesterday. The grading material will be obtained from a point two miles west of town. From now on the Wall ranch will be a scene of uninterrupted activity. In a month the grade will be completed and the construction of the shops will begin. The summer will see large buildings arise, but it will be spring before the new works are in full operation. In the meantime there will be a steady influx of railroad men.

ABSURDITIES OF THE NEWS

THE Carson News is badly worried over the course of The Journal and voices its plaints in a half column mess of absurdities, which are ridiculous enough to call for an apology to our readers for affording it even a passing notice. The principal grievance of the News is that The Journal has always urged the "bogus" silver cause and with characteristic "consistency" charges this paper with endeavoring to lead the Silver party bodily into the ranks of the "gold Democracy." The writer of this was the first to indite a silver article or at least the first article denunciatory of the demonization of that metal, that was ever published in the State, or so far as he knows, anywhere else in the Union. He has never changed or even modified his views upon that question, nor will he ever while able wield a pen or pencil cease to advocate the cause, which is as fully one of the cardinal principles of the Democratic party as anti-imperialism or tariff for revenue only. There has never been a line printed in The Journal under its present management, which indicates a desire to draw the Silver party in Nevada into the ranks of the Democratic party much less into the ranks of what the News chooses to designate as the "gold" Democracy. The Journal recognizes no such political organization. The 150,000 bolters who voted for Palmer and Buckner in 1898, and those who supported directly the Republican candidate for president, do not come under the head of such Democracy as is advocated and will always be advocated by this paper. So far as Mr. Cleveland is concerned there is as little likelihood of his nomination or the nomination of any man of his views upon the financial question, or who bolted the ticket in 1896 and 1900 as the naming of a tariff reformer or bimetalist as the standard bearer of the Republican party. The Journal is well satisfied with the present position of the anti-Republican element in Nevada. It has for the last four years acted in concert harmoniously and successfully and if our efforts will avail it will so continue to act while the present issues are prominent in the politics of the country. The News says The Journal "seldom refers to silver these days." It certainly refers to it often enough to call out not infrequent articles from the News in derision and denunciatory of the claims of the friends of the white metal.

MEDICAL ETHICS

A NEW code of medical ethics has been adopted by the American Medical Association and the fraternity is better satisfied with them than with the old code which was believed by the younger physicians to have become antiquated. As many people have but a vague idea of what constitutes the code of medical ethics we give a summary of some of the important points it covers.

Relative to the duties of physicians to their patients, the utmost secrecy is entailed, and the physician must disclose none of the private affairs of the patient no infirmity of disposition or flaw of character observed during medical attendance. Timely notice should be given of dangerous manifestations to the friends of the patient and to the patient himself, if necessary. The patient should not be abandoned if incurable.

Physicians should not treat themselves or their families but should be willing to give their services to any brother physician or member of his immediate family. In cases of poverty and in certain public duties the services of physicians may be given free. Some general rule should be agreed upon by each medical society as to the minimum charge, and it should be a point of honor of all physicians to hold to the rule.

Physicians must not pay commissions to any one who recommends them. In case of differences between physicians the question in dispute should be left to the arbitration of impartial members of the profession.

In cases of pestilence the physician must remain at his post of duty. It is the duty of the physician to warn the public against all quacks and charlatans and to make sure that pharisees do not usurp the position of physicians.

The profession still clings to the high standard, but leaves open to question the wisdom of refusing to advertise. That may be proper treatment of brother physicians, but is it proper treatment of the public? Should not a man who has attained eminence and skill in some branch of healing be allowed to advertise for the benefit of humanity?

SWITCHED OFF FOR GROVER

HON. RICHARD OLNEY, of Boston, some months ago, loomed up largely on the political horizon as a presidential candidate. The Boston Herald, Mugwump, was his principal sponsor but alas and alack the Herald has been swept completely off its feet by the manufactured enthusiasm for Grover Cleveland at St. Louis, has gone square-jawed back on Mr. Olney, and has come out flat-footed for Grover. What Olney thinks of that is not generally known. He perhaps thinks thoughts that would not look well in print. If he can't hold his own organ in line how can he hope to secure support elsewhere? How can the Herald explain its going back on Olney? What has he done to be dropped like a hot potato? People like fidelity and do not admire flippers. The Herald will perhaps wake up to a realization of that fact.

The beef trust continues to thrive on the early breakfast injunction diet.

The injunction sauce for the labor goose is seemingly not relished by the employer gander.

Surface indications are to the effect that the political pie prepared by Wall Street financiers is suffering from a soggy undercrust.

The trouble with the injunction remedy for monopoly is that the monopolies seem to think it is some new fangled kind of breakfast food.

The multiplicity of Missouri Republicans be indicted for boodling indicates a healthy growth in the Democratic majority of that State.

If Governor Pennypacker knows what people think of him we cannot blame him for a desire to prevent them from telling it.

The administration seems disinclined to use the public remedy in the postoffice department.

Right now would be a good time for the absent-minded husband to explain to his wife that he mailed the letter and that it doubtless failed to reach its destination on account of the trouble in the postoffice department.

American sympathy for the persecuted Russian Jews would attract more attention were it not for so many reports of conflicts between our Philippine "constabulary" and "roving bands of ladrones."

The bankers are still declaring for an "elastic currency" by which they mean a currency that can stretch when it pays to stretch, and contract when it pays to contract.

Up to date no tariff advocate has explained how a tariff that makes manufactured products cheaper by stimulating competition also makes wheat dearer by preventing competition.

Our Philippine "constabulary" is not engaged in subduing the fanatics. Is this to be taken as an indication that the supply of "insurrectos," "bandits," and "ladrones" has been exhausted?

That scratching sound Des Moinesward is only Senator Allison trying to write a tariff plank that will say a whole lot and mean absolutely nothing, a task at which the senator is wonderfully adept.

THE State Board of Education will soon issue a statement giving the full details of the charge in the investment of the school monies from United States to Massachusetts State bonds. The Journal has heretofore made no reference to the criticisms upon that act of the board, regarding them too frivolous to merit even a passing notice. The board merely acted as the same number of prudent and intelligent business men would act in the transaction of their private affairs. It was in every respect a beneficial change, insuring a larger rate of interest with equally good security, as the statement will show when it is published.

HAVING for some years vociferated lustily about the necessity of the flag "staying put" the administration is acting somewhat inconsistently when it demands that Russia's flag shall come down in Manchuria. But inconsistency is becoming the rule with the administration.

A COLONY of food reformers is to be established in Colorado and it is stated that factories and mills will be located at the same place. This is not appropriate, for where there are so many cranks it should be easy to run the machinery—Oakland Enquirer.

THE CLIMATE STRENUOUS MEETING OF NEW BOARD

THEORIES ADVANCED ABOUT THE WEATHER

A Journal Correspondent Charges Up Hot Waves and Cold Spells Against Railroads and Ocean Cables.

Editor Journal—The large number of weather record breakers in the United States during the past four months is very mystifying to the weather sharps and all manner of reasons are given as the cause of it. Perhaps the most plausible theory is our strenuous civilization and the rapid construction of railroads, electric wires and cables which interfere with the natural electric currents and cause the wonderful and rapidly increasing phenomena that we are now experiencing.

It is a singular coincidence that in line with this theory that the month of February following the completion of the Pacific cable from San Francisco to Honolulu, a record has been kept at the latter station, the temperature averaging about three degrees below the normal for the entire month. New York and Philadelphia have experienced the hottest wave ever recorded in the month of May. While Montana experienced the greatest snowstorm and coldest wave ever known during the month of May, and now to add to these record breakers is the unprecedented series of cyclones, cloudbursts and floods that have been prevailing during the past two or three weeks in the central part of the country.

It looks now as if we were getting a whole lot of strenuous climate by rail, wire and cable, and perhaps coming events will prove or disprove this theory.

OBSERVER

R June 1st, 1903

Baptist Church

The services at our church Sunday evening were well attended and full of interest.

At the young peoples meeting Brother Whitaker gave an inspiring lecture on David Livingstone, an address that we are not likely to soon forget. Mr. Whitaker after a year of very successful work in the University, will go to Oakland, Cal., after commencement, where he will visit friends for a few weeks, after which he may visit his aged mother at Shirley, Mass.

This afternoon at 2 o'clock the Ladies' Aid Society will meet with Mrs. Thompson on Sierra street. All the members of the society and ladies of the congregation are invited to attend.

Thursday evening of this week the Young People's society of the church will hold their monthly business meeting and social at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Driver, 209 Maple street. All the young people of the church are invited.

Next Monday evening the boys and girls of the Sunday school and congregation will give an entertainment at the church to which they invite their parents and friends. A lot of hard work is being put in on the program and we think it will be pretty good. Don't forget the date, Monday evening, June 8th.

TRUSTEES OF THE RENO CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

Organization of the Board Perfected and a Vote of Thanks Tendered to Donors of Favors to the Chamber.

There was a meeting of the new board of trustees of the Reno Chamber of Commerce at the chamber last evening. The trustees, H. J. Darling, J. M. McCormack, W. L. Cox, Charles Gulling and Thomas J. Steinmetz having been duly qualified proceeded to the election of officers for the ensuing term with the following choice: President, H. J. Darling, vice president, Capt. W. L. Cox, treasurer, A. F. Tooley, secretary and general manager of exhibits, Major G. W. Ingalls.

On motion a vote of thanks was extended to the following parties: To John Bruner & Co., for desk and chairs for visitors, Nevada Water, Light and Power company for electric light for the Chamber of Commerce, Sunset Telephone and Telegraph company for instruments and service, Mr. James Henny for shelving for the library, Southern Pacific Railroad company, Carson and Colorado railroad, Virginia and Truckee, Eureka and Fallside railroad, Austin and Battle Mountain railroad, Nevada-California-Oregon railroad, Wells Fargo Express company, O'Keefe, Sodaville and Tonopah Stage line also the following newspapers donated regularly to the Carson and California for the year: Nevada State Journal, a daily, Reno Evening Gazette, a daily, Reno Evening Telegram, a daily, Inyo County Register, Tonopah Bonanza, Lyon County Times, Gardnerville Record, Gardnerville Courier, White Pine News, Eureka Sentinel, Lovelock Argus, The Daily Silver State, Winnemucca, Weekly Elko Independent, Sierra Valley Record, Tonopah Mining Review, Pacific Coast Miner, L. A. Mining Review, The Mining Investor, Colorado Springs, The Mining and Scientific Press.

It is the purpose of the new trustees to meet regularly every Wednesday evening and to do all in their power to maintain the good work already inaugurated by the old board of trustees, and to extend the same as far as the funds that may be at their command.

The belief of all the trustees was that the taxpayers and citizens of Washoe county and the state would see that the good name and grand work of the Reno Chamber of Commerce should not lack for financial support.

LOCAL MINES AND MINING

PROGRESS OF AN IMPORTANT INDUSTRY IN NEVADA.

New Discoveries, Development Work, Shipment and Reduction of Ore Reported From Every County.

The Pacific mine is putting in power drills. Recent work shows ore running about 10 per cent. copper, 10 ounces silver and about $1.60 gold. The Pacific company will soon begin work on the Morgan group, in the same locality. The Morgan has good ore, carrying lead, silver and copper.

The Sylvania mine, situated near Bullion, twenty-eight miles south of Elko, is said to have shipped 1,000 tons of ore, running 24 per cent. copper. A considerable tonnage of high grade ore is now ready for shipment. It is asserted that this group is likely to pass to the hands of Chicago parties.

Lovelock Argus: Some excitement has been caused by a reported strike in the Donnelly, or the Divide Peak mountain, on the boundary line between Humboldt and Washoe counties. The formation seems to be permanent. The original strike assays not less than $500 per ton and consists of a ledge about two feet in width. Surprise Valley is the nearest settlement. It is expected that the locality will be the scene of lively work during the coming summer.

Eureka Sentinel: G. F. Holiday, a mining man of Salt Lake and Tonopah, spent several days here this week examining a number of mining properties on Adams Hill and the E. E. Phillips mining property in Diamond Valley.

Ely News: The 500 foot level at the Ruth has now been passed, and there is still no indication of the immense ore body diminishing in magnitude, but on the contrary, each additional fifty feet added to its depth demonstrates a marked improvement in the character of the ore and the percentage of the copper values.

Eureka Sentinel: R. A. Laird and E. W. Tremont have purchased the Cloud mine from the Simon Fraser estate. The Cloud is a patented property and situated on the west side of Prospect Mountain, adjoining the Matamoros and Dead Broke mines. The new owners intend commencing work on the property the first of next week.

The development of the mineral resources of Red Canyon by E. W. Carman, late of Cleveland, Ohio, who last fall bought the Longfellow mine, is being pushed with energy and conservative mining judgment. There being about 60 tons of ore on the dump of unknown value and before erecting an expensive mill and plant, he has put up a small test plant consisting of a two-stamp mill, battery and pan and will make a trial run. If it mills according to expectations, and it has been pretty thoroughly sampled there is scarcely a doubt as to its value, a ten-stamp mill will be erected. The present mill will start up Monday and will run until the supply of ore is worked, when extensive operations will be commenced in the mine. A dynamo has been ordered with which the mine and outbuildings will be lighted. Record.

Of Benefit to European Tourists LONDON, June 1.—American travelers will be pleased to learn that the combined excursion and season ticket system was put into effect today on the leading Italian railways. Belgium was the first European country to introduce the practice of issuing combined tour tickets, and the system—which enables the traveler to arrange his own itinerary and to effect a saving of more than 30 per cent. upon the price of ordinary single tickets—has become so popular that it has since been applied to the railway systems of Holland, Germany, Austria, Sweden, Denmark, Norway, Turkey, the Danubian provinces and in France under certain conditions.

Wedding of Admiral's Daughter PHILADELPHIA, Pa., June 1.—The wedding of Miss Meta Melville, daughter of Rear Admiral Melville, U. S. N., and Mr. Herbert Grant Stockwell took place here today in the presence of a distinguished gathering of naval officers and society people from Washington, New York and other points.

STARTLING EVIDENCE Fresh testimony in great quantity is constantly coming in, declaring Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption Coughs and Colds to be unequalled. A recent expression from T. J. McFarland, Bentonville, Va., serves as example. He writes: "I had Bronchitis for three years and doctored all the time without being benefited. Then I began taking Dr. King's New Discovery, and a few bottles wholly cured me." Equally effective in curing all Lung and Throat troubles, Consumption, Pneumonia and Grip. Guaranteed by S. J. Hodgkinson, druggist. Trial bottles free, regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

A PLUCKY COP GETS IT SQUARE IN THE NECK.

George Sylvander Insults Ladies and Finds Himself in the Cooler Where He Will Have Time to Think.

Officer Ferrel gets $20 a month from the city for "attending to the boiler fire in the engine house." He is supposed to earn the rest of his salary, which is paid by citizens, in the peaceful avocation of seeing that the fire alarm bell rings five minutes before a conflagration starts and telephoning to business men who go home and leave their shop doors unlocked.

But Ferrel isn't content with such a peaceful existence. He is always butting in. His record for arrests is as good as that of any of the regular men on the force.

Last evening he pulled a fellow, one George Sylvander, who was insulting ladies on the street. The defendant was drunk, but not so helpless as to be unable to run. He gave Ferrel the slip and, after calling on him to halt, the officer took a pot shot and still the fellow ran.

A clothes line caught the cop in the neck as the pair raced across a vacant lot. This gave the prisoner a lead, which was shortly overcome, and he was downed in front of the old police station by the policeman, assisted by Harry Wright and G. M. Timlin.

INVERTED STARS AND STRIPES

Grand Army Lays Blame on Spanish-American Veterans
Reno, Nevada, June 1, 1903.
Editor Journal Reno, Nevada.

Dear Sir—The flag displayed above the Investment Company's building on Memorial Day was hoisted by a detail from the Spanish-American War Volunteers who inadvertently raised it with the Union down. Neither General O. M. Mitchell Post nor any of its officers were responsible for the error, which was not discovered until after our return from the exercises, when it was promptly remedied and the flag remained properly half-masted until taken down in the afternoon. Very truly yours,
WALTER S. LONG,
